Thomas Ryan retired as a Partner in the Transaction Services Accounting, Valuation & Financial Reporting advisory services group of PricewaterhouseCoopers in June, 2010. He has over 25 years of experience in financial analysis, operational review and market comparable analysis involving the valuation of companies, and their underlying tangible and intangible assets.

He joined PricewaterhouseCoopers in 1996. One career highlight was his role 2001 to 2006, as the national leader of the Tax valuation services of PricewaterhouseCoopers.

From 1993 to 1996 he held the position of Managing Director, Southern California Valuation leader KPMG Peat Marwick Los Angeles.

Between 1987 and 1993, was Vice President then Executive Vice President, and later, President, of Taft Electric Company an electrical contracting firm with over 200 employees.

Mr. Ryan later joined Arthur Young in 1984 to help begin the valuation practice at that firm, later became a partner and led the West Region valuation practice.

His early valuation career began in 1976 with American Valuation Consultants in Chicago. He later was one of the founders of Valuation Technology which was later sold to Stone & Webster Appraisal.

At Stone & Webster, between 1979 and 1984 he rose from Manager of Financial Analysis, to Vice President, and then Sr. Vice President, General Manager and Member of the Board in New York. Stone & Webster Appraisal, was a subsidiary of then NYSE listed Stone & Webster Engineering.

Valuation project experience over his career has included direct personal appraisal of business enterprise, real estate, machinery & equipment, and intangible assets, as well as overall responsibility for leadership of large projects of international scope involving multiple billions in values, where teams of international appraisers involving various valuation specialties worked together. Assignments at PricewaterhouseCoopers have included national leadership roles in various specialty valuation sectors.

The span of industries served has been quite diverse reflecting the trends in mergers and acquisitions over his career. Clients served have included industries and segments within Technology, Semiconductors, Telecom, Manufacturing, Internet, Gaming, Biotechnology, Pharma, Health Care Providers, Private Equity, Financial Services, Professional Sports, Real Estate, Energy, Oil and Gas.
