AACSB Accreditation is a hard-earned honor. This seminar will not only help you maintain your status among peers, but also assist you in continually improving your program. Expert facilitators will show you how to prepare a maintenance review application and spell out the roles and responsibilities for your school's team members for both accounting and business accreditation. Join other seminar attendees to explore the do's and don'ts of the maintenance review process.

Facilitator: Arthur L. Centonze, dean of the Lubin School of Business, Pace University
